DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language; or the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1,7,10,11,17,19, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Koch'087 et al.

The Koch et al. reference discloses a fuel dispensing nozzle comprising a “housing” 80, a “valve system” 132, a “hollow cavity” containing “sound systems” 300,400 and a “flexible boot” (col. 7, lines 5-8), having a “housing” surmounted thereon proximate reference numerals 306 and 308 (see Figure 13). In regard to claims 7 and 17, the “poppet valve” associated with “valve system" 132 can be considered a fluid "switch" and the "valve system" 132 further activates a pressure switch 140 for automatic operation of the nozzle.

NOTE: this rejection is essentially identical to the rejection upheld by the Board of Appeals in parent application 08/515,438.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-23 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,648,031. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the patented claims define a device that anticipates the now claimed subject matter. Examiner takes Official Notice that obviousness falls well within the scope of anticipation. Therefore, to have claims to the now claimed subject matter would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention in view of Examiner's Noticed fact. See also the rationale of In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993) in support of Examiner's position.
